

AN INVITATION TO NEIGHBORING CONGREGATIONS

STAND WITH THE STUDENTS WHO ARE STANDING FOR THEIR FAITH.

University Lutheran Chapel is starting a Champions for Religious Liberty chapter — and the students who host it are asking their neighbors to sit at the table with them.

A student's calendar is rarely their own. A chapter made only of students empties out at midterms — and the handful still in the room lose heart. Your presence is what makes it hold.

- ◆ Support the students. Be the ones who show up every time, so the students are never the only ones in the room.
- ◆ Get equipped yourself. Two-kingdom thinking, the First Amendment, life, marriage, and education.
- ◆ Bring it home. What you learn here, you carry back into your own congregation.

WHEN

Thursdays, 7:00 PM
Beginning Thursday, September 10

FOR CU STUDENTS · YOU ARE THE HOSTS

HOLD YOUR GROUND. YOU DON'T HAVE TO HOLD IT ALONE.

A Champions for Religious Liberty chapter at ULC — ten Thursday evenings to get equipped, and neighbors from around Boulder standing beside you.

You already know the moment: a class discussion turns, and you have about four seconds to decide whether to say anything. This chapter is where you get ready for that moment — before it comes.

- ◆ Learn what you actually believe — and why the First Amendment protects it.
- ◆ Learn how to say it without being the person nobody wants to sit next to.
- ◆ Invite your congregation. ULC is the home, and you're the host — bring members of area congregations with you.
